Rare Case presentation of Double Culprit Lesion in an Acute Myocardial Infarction

Early morning angioplasty calls for heart attack many a times present with tricky and challenging situations. This 42 year old gentleman had Severe Heart Attack (Anterior wall MI). He reached at Star Hospital, Bapunagar for the Primary Angioplasty at 4.00am on Sunday morning.. On doing his angiography to our surprise; Out of three major blood vessels of the heart, two had 100% blockages at the same time. This kind of presentations are very rare on acute heart attack. As patient was young with on going heart attack, We had to decide immediately . We did primary angioplasty on both the vessels at the same time within 45 minutes. Symptoms relieved completely after the procedure and patient was discharged two days later. Thanks to the team work, a life was saved.
